THIS DAY'S NEWS.

An Important Purchase by the Northern Pacific—The Coming Railway.

Royal Grants Creating a Liberal Division—Terrible Disasters—Parnell Commission.

By Postal Telegraph.]

San Francisco, July 25.—A special dispatch received here from Montreal last evening says, that the Northern Pacific R. R. Company has purchased the Great Northwestern Central R. R., running from Winnipeg to Edmonton, N. W. T., and that it will probably be extended at once to the Pacific coast, which it will strike at Skeena Bay.

PROHIBITION FOR THE COLONIES.

San Francisco, July 25.—Richard Coad, the well-known English prohibition leader, arrived in this city last night. He is on the way to New Zealand and Australia to co-operate with others there in the introduction of prohibition measures.

THE SUICIDE SEASON.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 25.—Frank Rector, a rancher 65 years old, and an ex-colonel in the Confederate army, has suicided with poison. Financial troubles are supposed to have been the cause.

THE GREAT DISTURBER.

Chicago, July 25.—The transcontinental association has not yet reached the hoped for compromise. In regard to the Canadian Pacific Railway demand on Pacific Coast traffic the association is still discussing the matter to-day.

AN OLD HOUSE IN TROUBLE.

New York, July 25.—Leeds Bros. & Co., one of the oldest, largest and supposed to be the strongest dry goods house in the city, is reported to be embarrassed and it is announced will make an assignment to-day. The liabilities are estimated at four million dollars. It is thought the difficulties are only temporary and that the house will be able to resume in a short time.

THE GRAND OLD COUPLE.

London, July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone celebrated their golden wedding to-day.

TO BREAK MONOPOLY.

London, July 25—The French minister of posts and telegraphs has notified every telephone company in France that the government will take over their lines on the expiration of the terms for which they were given a monopoly. This term expires within a year in the case of most of the companies.

A GODSEND TO CROFTERS.

London, July 25.—The crofter commissioners have tendered a decision in the case of one of the largest estates in the Island of Lewis, belonging to Lady Matheson. By it the 300 crofters are granted a reduction averaging something over 30 per cent. in their rents, besides which their arrears, which amounted to over £4,000, have been reduced to less than £1,000.

THE COMMISSION.

London, July 25.—Before the Parnell commission yesterday Mr. Maloney, an ex-official of the land league denied that he possessed knowledge of any documents belonging to the league, except those already in the hands of the solicitors. Witness said the statement that he was leaving the country and ordered the documents to be destroyed was an error.

THE BOOKS O. K.

London, July 25.—Before the special Parnell commission, Mr. Hardcastle, a professional accountant, deposed he had examined the books of the National League and found them accurate and all moneys accounted for. He admitted that a deficiency existed in the Land League's accounts, due to the absence of some of the books and vouchers. After taking of his testimony the commission adjourned.

AMBIGUOUS.

Paris, July 25—It is announced here in the Nationale that DeBeaurepaire, procureur-general, is preparing for war on the council before which Gen. Boulanger is to be accused in the indictment recounting the various diversions of State money with which Boulanger is charged.

GOOD FOR AMERICAN WHEAT.

Vienna, July 25.—Owing to continual drought, the crops in Hungary and South Russia are failures.

MILAN SPEAKS.

Belgrade, July 25.—Ex-King Milan has issued an address in which he declares he has go intention of endeavoring to change the existing government of Servia.

THE MASSES ARE FRIENDLY.

Berlin, July 25.—Statistics are published here showing that more than 3000 Germans, among whom were 122 officers, on leave of absence, went to Paris during the first week of July to visit the Exposition. Commenting on these facts the Kreuze Gazette laments this veritable German emigration "to that Paris where so many dangers await them."

RUPTURE AMONG THE LIBERALS.

London, July 24.—There is a rupture among the liberals over the royal grants, and Gladstone, Sir William Vernon and Parnell will support the government. Morley will move an amendment against increasing the allowance to the royal princess, unless the country can be assured that this increase will be the last asked for. Gladstone cannot induce Labouchere to withdraw his motion to substitute for the committee's report an address to the Queen stating that the former grants must be sufficient for present needs. The rupture of the radicals insures the passage of the report giving the grant.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Washington, July 24.—The attorney general has rendered a decision in the case of the twelve Chinese coolies who are detained at New Orleans. These coolies are on their way from Cuba to China, and wish to proceed overland to San Francisco, where they expect to take steamer. It is understood that the decision is the most important ever made on the construction of the Chinese exclusion act, as it is said to allow coolies to proceed to San Francisco as tourists, thus establishing a precedent.

TERRIBLE CHINESE DISASTER.

Nearly 2000 Lives Lost, and 170,000 Without Shelter.

San Francisco, July 23.—China advices received by the steamer Belgic to-day state that a recent fire at La Chow burned twenty-three hours, destroying 9000 dwellings. Over 1500 persons perished in the flames, and 400 others were killed. Nearly 170,000 people were obliged to camp out without shelter, and were dying at the rate of 100 a day from want and exposure. The authorities are providing for their necessities.

The 4th of July was celebrated at Yokohama. Minister Swift gave a reception, which was attended by all the native and foreign notables. American war vessels and other men-of-war were in the harbor firing salutes.

WILL ROYALTY GO?

The Question of Royal Grants and Republican Government.

London, July 25.—The committee's decision on royal grants, pleases nobody, and long and hot debates will ensue. The radicals are encouraged to support John Morley, who voted with them finally in the committee. He will contest the bill, embodying the decision, at every stage.

Two points are specially objectionable: First, The Queen intimates she doesnot intend to press for any grants for her grandchildren, except in the case of the Prince of Wales' children, but nothing final or binding is said in the reports. The radicals, considering the wealth of the Queen, will insist upon something definite on this point. Since Prince Albert's death she has received nearly three quarters of a million pounds sterling of unearned increment from the Duchy of Lancaster alone.

The second, and main objection, will be the grants being made to the Prince of Wales as trustee for his children, instead of to the children directly. The Prince is said to be embarrassed already. This arrangement may lead to further application to parliament on behalf of his children.

If Mr. R. Cunningham-Graham, the socialist member of parliament for Lanarkshire, is permitted to offer a proposal, which he announces it is his intention to make at once, when the royal grants come up for discussion, there will undoubtedly be a stir in the house. He intends to move that all royal grants should be limited to the present reign, and that on the death of Her Majesty the government of the country should be made republican. It is doubtful if he will be permitted to submit this proposal.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

Mr. James Herrman, an attorney of San Francisco, one of the firm of Herrman & Soto of that city, arrived from the east on the C. P. R. last night and registered at the Driard. He intends remaining a few days for the purpose of making the acquaintance of members of the bar here. Mr. Herrman has been east during the past three months attending to heavy legal business. He is well known in this section.

The Rev. W. A. Duncan, B. D., of Churchill, has gone to Victoria, B. C., on a summer trip. The session granted him six weeks' vacation, a well earned holiday after the completion of their new church. —Canada Presbyterian. The reverend gentleman referred to is a brother of Dr. Duncan, of this city.

Misses Jennie and Ettie Tolmie returned last evening from a visit to Tacoma, accompanied by Mrs. Huggins.

J. P. Howe, the successful manager of the New Market theatre, Portland, accompanied the "Twelve Temptations" to this city.

Gen. Sprague, of the Northern Pacific Railway, Tacoma, en route to Alaska, is at the Driard.

R. W. Bryant, special correspondent of the New York World, accompanied by Mrs Bryant and son, left for the Sound this morning.

Mr. David Ker, of Brackman & Ker, returned from San Francisco last evening via Portland and the Sound. The change in the Bay City since he was last there, Mr. Ker says, is astonishing.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Barnard, Sen., is seriously ill at her residence, Duval cottage. Mr. Barnard, of Hamilton, who had left for home, returned by the Yosemite last night, having been telegraphed for.

W. Chantrell Martin has resigned his position in the U. S. Consulate and will shortly leave for the interior of the province for the benefit of his health. Mr. Martin's dealings with the public, who do business at the consulate, have always been of a very pleasant nature. He will be succeeded by Mr. Rogers.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Searle-O'Connor Race—Laycock in England.

Al. Cridge, stakeholder in the Sullivan-Kilrain match, paid over the money to Sullivan yesterday, and awarded him the championship belt.

LACROSSE.

The Victorias will have their last practice this evening, when all players should attend. The Vancouvers will play in their regular colors, viz, dark blue; while the home team will don their neat uniform, with blue and white stripes. The game will commence at 3 p. m. sharp, on Saturday on Beacon Hill.

The match will undoubtedly be the best of the season and there will, no doubt, be a large concourse of people present.

AT THE RANGE.

Good shooting was done at the practice at Clover Point range yesterday, which goes to show that the boys have already learned how to use the long Snider. The following was the score at the four ranges with the exception of the last which was at the three ranges:

J. L. Beckwith	115
F. R. Sargison	111
J. C. Cornish	110
H. Fleming	104
W. H. Cullin	101
J. C. Newbury	100
R. Williams	91
A. Langley	76

FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

The members of the Nanaimo fire department have decided to hold a fireman's picnic and tournament in the Foresters' grounds on Saturday, August 10th. The day's sport will comprise a hose reel contest, followed by a number of foot races, jumping and athletic games. A grand lottery will also take place, the prizes being articles of utility and value.

READY FOR THEM.

Free Press: Mr. D. S. McLeod, who returned yesterday from Victoria, said he had tried to get a match on with Cameron, but failing in that, tried Faulkner, Quinn and Schumacher, but with a like result. Apparently they were afraid to meet Nanaimo's wrestler, giving various excuses. However, Dan is open for a match, catch as catch can style, for any amount they like to name and can be seen at the Royal hotel.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

A number of owners of property paid costs for allowing thistles to grow on their property.

The wages case, brought by the fireman of the steamer Amelia, was referred to the Supreme court. His honor considered that the police court was not the proper place to settle suits for wages.

TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Resignation of Mayor Hendry and Alderman Scoullar, of New Westminster.

Drowned at Vancouver—A Mid-Summer Exhibition at Brandon, Manitoba.

Special to THE TIMES.

Winnipeg, July 25.—Martin, Burke's solicitor applied yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus. It was granted and the appeal will be argued before the full court to-day.

A TORONTO GIRL.

Toronto, July 25.—It is believed here that the young lady who suicided in New York recently under the name of Kitty Deane, was Maude Miller, of Wellsley street, this city.

SMALLPOX ON BOARD.

Quebec, July 25.—The ship Lanarkshire, from Buenos Ayres, has been detained in quarantine with smallpox on board. The patients have been placed in the hospital and the ship fumigated.

MIDSUMMER EXHIBITION.

Brandon, July 25.—The annual agricultural exhibition was opened here yesterday by Premier Greenway and will be continued to-day. The display of cattle and horses is fine. The experiment of holding a fair in midsummer is pronounced a success.

MAYOR HENDRY RESIGNS.

The Announcement Startles the Citizens of the Royal City.

Special to THE TIMES.]

New Westminster, July 25.—The citizens of this city were startled last evening by the announcement of the resignation of Mayor Hendry. The reasons given by His Worship for the step taken are that he being a member of the Southern Railway Company his interests in that corporation appear to conflict with those of the city. Some of the aldermen insinuate that he is working for the New Westminster & Southern Railway Company.

E. S. Scoullar has also sent in his resignation as a member of the City Council, and it is understood on the same grounds.

The salmon run continues to be excellent.

OIL DISCOVERED.

A Valuable Find Reported in this Province—Sir Caron to Speak.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, July 25.—Mr. Kirkpatrick, late clerk of the House of Commons, has received a letter from his son, who has been prospecting in the Northwest Territories, to the effect that he has discovered oil, much superior to that in Pennsylvania, on the British Columbia side of the Rocky Mountains and also on the eastern side of the Rocky Mountains.

Sir Adolphe Caron left yesterday to make a speech at Lundy Lane celebration.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Drowning Accident—Ankle Broken—Shipping Notes.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Vancouver, July 25.—Yesterday afternoon John Henderson, mate of the bark Antoinette, was drowned while crossing the inlet to Moodyville on the tug Senator. At the time he was having a friendly scuffle with a companion in the stern of the steamer, when he lost his balance and fell overboard and was not seen to rise again.

William Tompkins, foreman of workmen engaged on the Sir Donald Smith block, fractured his ankle yesterday afternoon by missing his footing when jumping away from some hoisting machinery.

The Yosemite had not got to her birth at the wharf this morning.

The Titania, the first ship direct from London to Vancouver, arrived at 2:15 this morning.

ALDERMEN IN SESSION.

Last Night's Meeting—Business Transacted.

Precisely at 8 o'clock last evening Mayor Grant called the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to order. The following were present: Alds. Goodacre, Harrison, Vigelius, Wilson, Coughlan, McKillican, Kelly and Harris.

City Clerk Dowler read the minutes of the previous meetings which were adopted.

CLAIM FOR COMPENSATION.

The following communication was then read and referred to the water committee and city barristers:

To the Mayor and Corporation of the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia:

The undersigned, owners and occupants of land adjoining, touching, or near to the Colquitz River, in Lake District, near the city of Victoria, hereby protest against the action of the Mayor and Corporation of the said city of Victoria, or of parties acting under them, in damming, obstructing or otherwise preventing the free, natural and unobstructed flow of water into and along the said Colquitz River, whereby damages to the extent of fifty thousand dollars have already been caused to the owners and occupants of land as aforesaid.

And the owners and occupants of land as aforesaid, undersigned, hereby notify the said Mayor and Corporation of the said city of Victoria that they now demand and intend to claim from the said city of Victoria compensation to the amount of fifty thousand dollars as aforesaid by them the aforesaid undersigned owners and occupants of land as aforesaid, by the act of the said Mayor and corporation of the said city of Victoria or of parties acting under them in damming and obstructing or otherwise preventing the free, natural and unobstructed flow of the water aforesaid; and, further, that they the owners and occupants as aforesaid now claim and will demand from the said city of Victoria and from the Mayor and Corporation thereof damages amounting to not less than one hundred dollars per day for each and every day from the date hereof, and until such time as they the said Mayor and Corporation or parties acting under them shall remove or cause to be removed all and every hindrance whatsoever to the free and natural flow of water into and along the said aforenamed Colquitz river, and in such manner that they the aforesaid undersigned owners and occupants as aforesaid shall have and enjoy the full, free, and unrestricted use and benefit of said water.

And further, the said undersigned owners and occupants as aforesaid hereby notify the said Mayor and Corporation of the said city of Victoria to forthwith immediately upon receipt of this notice, proceed to remove or to have removed all and every the obstructions and hindrances hereinbefore named.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Pickering and Crompton, acknowledging receipt of letter re the visit of Mr. Hill to Victoria. Referred to drainage committee.

From W. Clark asking for the use of a bay off Niagara street to float logs and the use of a piece of land facing on James Bay in the same locality to construct a small sawmill. Referred to street committee.

From Mrs. McTavish informing the Board that some individual turned off the water from a chicken house on her premises. The lady asked whether the individual was clothed with authority to turn off the supply. Referred to water committee and commissioner.

From W. T. Drake asking that Parkington street be placed in proper repair. Referred to street committee.

From William Graham asking for a supply of water on the Saanich road.

Ald. Harrison said that 32 houses are supplied with an inch main near his residence and it would be wrong to supply persons outside the city limits until residents in the city receive a good supply.

Ald. Coughlan said the service asked for would not decrease the supply in the city.

Ald. Vigelius said he hoped the water committee would be liberal in laying services across James Bay. The people in the locality voted in favor of the by-laws on Tuesday and should be supplied with all the water they required.

The communication was referred to the water committee and commissioner.

From F. C. Stover, agent for the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company, offering to put a fire alarm system in this city consisting of 25 Gardner boxes, strikers and gongs, at a cost of $5,500.

Ald. McKillican moved that the tender be referred to the electric light committee and fire wardens with power to act. Carried.

Ald. Coughlan said the Gamewell system is the best in the world and Vancouver would be ahead of this city in that respect.

From J. McB. Smith, provincial auditor, asking for a cheque in accordance with an act passed in the local legislature. Referred to finance committee.

From John Whitfield, asking for a drain on North Park street. Referred to the street committee.

From J. Turner asking for a sidewalk and drain on Bithet street. Referred to street committee.

From Tait, Barton & Cowles, informing the board that 50 tons of iron water pipe was shipped from St. Louis for distribution purposes. Referred to water committee and commissioner.

From H. B. Roycraft, stating that the dead animals on the beach near Rose Bay were buried.

His Worship did not consider the board responsible for dead animals outside the city limits. Received and filed.

From A. Calder informing the board that he will construct a drain on Belcher street. Received and filed.

PETITIONS.

From H. Rutland and others asking for an extension of the water mains. Referred to water committee.

ACCOUNTS

For expenses in connection with the by-laws elections were read and ordered paid if found correct.

The Tramway Amendment By-law was read a second time.

The Buildings Amendment By-law passed a second reading.

A by-law to grant aid to the Victoria-Saanich-New Westminster Railway was introduced by Ald. Goodacre and read a first time.

Ald. Wilson gave notice of his intention to introduce a by-law to amend the Officers' Remuneration by-law.

THE BY-LAWS.

Returning Officer W. K. Bull reported on the vote cast on Tuesday last. On motion the report was spread on the minutes.

EXTENDING THE TIGER ENGINE HOUSE.

On motion it was decided to call for tenders for the erection of an addition to the Tiger Engine House for police and fire purposes.

The board decided to call for tenders for a new fence at Ross Bay cemetery

STREET COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The street committee recommended that the north side of Humboldt street be graded and a new sidewalk laid. Adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ald. Kelly called attention to the nails protruding from the sidewalks in various portions of the city.

His worship called the attention of the sanitary committee to a nuisance on Cook street caused by scavengers dumping rubbish. The committee agreed to take cognizance of the matter.

The board adjourned at 10:40 o'clock.

FROM AN ENGLISHMAN.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I read your article in last night's issue, headed "Some of the Reasons." I have also read a letter in this morning's Colonist, signed "Englishman." After a twenty-six years' residence in this province, and after a trip "home" five and a half years ago, I can fully bear testimony to the truth of the statements in your article. The ignorance I found in the old country about Canada and this province was simply disgraceful. Yours respectfully,

Victoria, July 25th. HOME, PLUMMER.

AN ACRE OF SCOTCHMEN.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—There is a lovely lot of Scotchmen at the head of James Bay! Who will prosecute the Aldermen, cut them and throw them—I mean the thistles—into the salt water?

EDISON AND ELECTRICAL EXECUTIONS.

In an expression of opinion yesterday, in the matter of executions by electricity, we took the ground that the method was doomed to indefinite postponement in consequence of the difference of opinions existing relative to its deadliness. EDISON, however, has been interrogated by the committee which is investigating the subject, and he has made an offer of $1000 to any man who would come over to his laboratory and successfully withstand a shock of 1000 volts. On cross examination EDISON said that "the resistance of all men is very close between 600 and 800 ohms." To obtain the resistance of the human body by Wheatstone's bridge is not simply a matter of late experiment. Witness had measured the human resistance by it before the question of electrical execution was brought up. He considered the bridge an accurate means of measurement. A man could be completely carbonized by the electric current, but it would take 1500 horse-power to do it. If you took a Westinghouse of 1500 volts and kept it applied to the human body for five or six minutes it would not be carbonized, but mummified. This is because the water in the body would be gradually absorbed. As EDISON is pretty good authority on electrical matters, it is not unlikely that the law in New York State will be allowed to take its course.

AN ANALOGY.

We are sorry to note that the Columbian, in flying to the rescue of its masters—the government—should have adopted a line of defence which is neither ingenious nor tenable. We had expected something better of the Columbian, if not for its own sake for the sake of the gentlemen whose cause it so chivalrously advocates. The Columbian points out that there are two elderly gentlemen in Europe who exercise a paramount influence in the affairs of that region, and on the strength of this assumption reaches the conclusion that our own public men have not yet outgrown their usefulness. We are asked to believe in a word that because GLADSTONE and BISMARCK, both old men, still retain their mental powers, the rule applies with equal force to the oligarchs who run our political machine. This has the merit of sounding well, and if it were true that the Provincial Secretary was the mental peer of GLADSTONE we should be compelled to accept the analogy as sound reasoning. Unfortunately, however, for the Provincial Secretary at the least, the mental contrast afforded by standing him up beside the "Grand Old Man" is as Gulliver to a Brobdignagian. It has no other effect than to accentuate the lilliputian proportions of our public functionaries as compared with the gentlemen who play the leading parts in the affairs of Europe. Now, we hold that it is impossible to institute a correct analogy between men so widely separated in degrees of mental ability. If they were the peers of each other, we might assume with some show of reason that what is possible of GLADSTONE is also possible of the Provincial Secretary. But they are not the peers of each other. Between the farthest point of the Provincial Secretary's intelligence in the sea of thought, and the bold headland of GLADSTONE's knowledge there is an expanse as impassable as the gulf which interposed between DIVES and LAZARUS. GLADSTONE on the ocean of thought is a deep water ship, whereas the Provincial Secretary is but a mere coaster. The former takes his mental bearings by resorting to the profound depths of his exhaustless originality; the latter judges of his whereabouts by land marks. No comparison can be instituted between the twain, for if such were possible we might say with equal reason that should GLADSTONE suddenly become imbecile the logical inference would be that the Provincial Secretary was extremely susceptible of a similar misfortune. But let us pursue this course of analogical reasoning a little farther. Let us suppose that GLADSTONE is an older man than the Provincial Secretary by two-thirds, and that to a man of his calibre eighty years is the maximum of mental activity. Now, admitting this to be true, and to be only one-third as smart as GLADSTONE would be no serious reflection on the abilities of any man, we must assume that the Provincial Secretary has been unfitted for public business this thirty-eight years past. If GLADSTONE, being a smarter man than the Provincial Secretary by two-thirds, becomes senile at eighty, then according to the rule of analogy the Provincial Secretary, knowing only one-third as much, should be mentally decrepit at twenty-seven. To convey our idea more clearly (we like to be explicit in dealing with the Columbian) we will set GLADSTONE's intelligence at one hundred and the Provincial Secretary's at thirty-three and one third. Now, if a man possessing an intelligence rating at 100 looses full use of it at 80 years, should it not follow, according to the Columbian's mode of reasoning, that the intelligence which rates at 33⅓ will have become exhausted in one-third of that time, or in 26⅔ years. GLADSTONE's robust intellect carries him to 80 years; an intellect two-thirds less ceases to be prolific of ideas in one-third of that time or twenty-six and two-third years. Thus have we demonstrated that the government is a survival of the last generation, and that the Provincial Secretary should have retired from politics some thirty-eight years ago, or in other words, we are made aware that he was incapacitated from the performance of a public function since he was 26⅔ years of age. Analogy is a great thing, the Columbian will observe. It can be worked in almost any direction, and in demonstrating our little analogical problem we flatter ourselves that we are quite as logical as the organ in the salmon districts. We have made this revelation with diffidence, not alone for the sake of the Columbian, which really means well, but for the sake of the gentleman whom it undertakes to defend. But the Columbian has no one to blame but itself. We never should have undertaken to show up the government's unfitness by mathematical demonstration had it not been for the reckless analogy of our contemporary. Well might the government exclaim, "Save us from our friends."

JACK THE RIPPER.

The ingenuity Jack the Ripper displays in evading the police has no parallel in the history of crime, real or fictitious. The detective story of EDGAR ALLAN POE pales into insipidity, and Dr. JEKYLL and Mr. HYDE are totally eclipsed. It is difficult to say whether these murders are prompted by motives of revenge or from an uncontrollable mania. We should suppose the latter, for in the first instance more killing would suffice to requite the desire of vengeance, and yet if we undertake to explain the murders on the score of mania how shall we account for a modus operandi which baffles the detection of the principal? Great ingenuity is frequently associated with insanity, but it is sporadic rather than consecutive. The insane person soon gives himself away. On the other hand murder will out, no matter how ingeniously conceived and perfectly executed. The Whitechapel fiend is certainly a character sui generis, and if ever he is found he will furnish an interesting study for psychologists.

CANADIAN NEWS IN ENGLAND.

Why is it, asks the Canadian Gazette, by the way, that no respectable English paper thinks it worth its while to give its readers reliable telegraphic news from Canada? The Shah of Persia, or some other Eastern potentate with whom England's concern may well be infinitesimal, has only to nod his head and the cable is set violently in motion on behalf of the Times and other London journals; but Canada might pass through several stages of a revolution—a peaceful revolution, of course—before any English journal would think the fact worthy of a special cablegram. Where is the much-boasted enterprise and common sense of English newspaper managers?

Just so, observes the Calgary Tribune! There is less reliable news about the doings of Canada, one of England's most important possessions, than if she were some little seaside resort on the European continent. Canada is at present moved over two very weighty and important matters—annexation and the Jesuits' question, and yet we get less space in the London dailies than they allow their penny-a-liners for descriptions of the Shah's great emerald or Princess Blackymoorina's visit to the Zoo.

EUROPEAN WHEAT CROPS.

From the alleged condition of the wheat crop in Europe it looks as if wheat growers and millers were going to have a prosperous season without any assistance from the tariff. The crop in India will not figure in the world's wheat market this year, and Russia and Austro-Hungary, two wheat exporting countries, will find it difficult to feed themselves. The New York Times' cable letter from London has this to say of the wheat crops in Europe:

"Russia, which had big harvests the last two years, and forced the market to get rid of all its grain in order to float loans, the last of which was concluded the other day, now confronts a rather serious situation. Her big granaries, like those of Odessa, have never before been so empty of wheat, and the present crop in many large districts is a complete failure. There is a mass of confirmatory evidence of this from private sources, but the most conclusive is the fact that the official bureau, which last year for the first time sent out lots of encouraging bulletins, this year gives no sign of its existence. The long drought and the cyclonic storms, which destroyed the wheat and oats prospects in Russia, have done the same for wheat, rye and barley in Austro-Hungary, Roumania, and Eastern Germany.

This state of affairs cannot fail to be of great assistance to the wheat raisers of Canada and the United States, and now it remains to be seen whether the "middlemen" will undertake to make all the profit themselves, or whether they will generously give the farmer the benefit of the rise.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A Berlin Judge the other day, when addressing a locksmith who appeared as a witness, spoke as follows—"I should have thought you would dissuade your workmen from going to law for such a trifle." Witness—"That's what I did! I said, 'Children,' said I, 'the clerk at the lawyer's will take your coat, and the lawyer will strip off your shirt; and as for the judge, why, man, he'll skin you alive!' You see I talked sensibly to the folks, like that; but it was of no use."

A writer in the North American Review points out a way of abolishing poverty. He proposes to invest $10,000 at compound interest until the principal becomes so large that the interest accruing from it would change the whole face of society. After arguing with himself for some time the learned writer comes to the conclusion that his own scheme is absurd and wouldn't work. We then discover that the article is a "satire," and is supposed in some manner, which the writer does not reveal, to be extremely damaging to the interests of Henry George. This is very much as if a man were to build a man of straw, knock him down several times and then congratulate himself on having completely demolished John L. Sullivan.

Chauncey Depew prefers taking his vacation in England to lounging about the various summer resorts in the United States, and if accounts be true his head is pretty near level. He dined with Mr. Gladstone on Monday evening and attended the opera with him. He spent six hours with him, and said yesterday he had never seen Mr. Gladstone so full of vigor and spirits. They discussed many subjects, and each seemed to be Mr. Gladstone's specialty. Mr. Depew dined at and attended a ball at the Duke of Devonshire's. The next evening he dined with Earl Spencer and will meet the liberal leaders. On the next night he dines with Lord Rosebery. So it will go on until August 2nd, when he attends the naval review, where he will rub shoulders with innumerable royalties and members of parliament. He then goes to Paris, Hamburg and Rome on September 4th. He says London is the centre of the world. Russell Harrison also attended the Duke of Devonshire's ball.

This is how a woman learns to swim, according to a professor of the art: The majority of the fair pupils swim with their arms only, and if they do kick, the force of their stockinged soles is lost on the air. Instead of drawing the legs up under the body, as a good male swimmer does, the femine pupil bends the leg at the knee, so that the lower parts of the limbs rise gracefully above the surface of the water at every stroke and then drop back with a thud, as if the roof of the bath-house had fallen in. The effect of this innovation is most exhilarating, especially to the disinterested spectators. In proportion to their size women have heavier heads and smaller lungs than men; and, as lung power has much to do with a swimmer's buoyancy, a woman has a tendency in the water to pitch her head downward. The conformation of her body, too, helps this unpleasant tendency, so that when she aggravates the trouble by kicking her heels out of the water she looks like a duck diving for clams.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has no equal for destroying worms in children and adults. See that you get the genuine when purchasing.

—Thos. Sabin, of Eglington, says: "I have removed ten corns from my feet with Holloway's Corn Cure." Reader, go thou and do likewise.

—There is comfort in store for persons troubled with lame back, rheumatic pains, corns or bunions, who commence without delay, a course of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, followed up systematically until relief is obtained.

—F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

—THE LAWS OF THE MEDES AND PERSIANS were not more immutable than those of nature. If we transgress them we suffer. Sometimes, however, we break them inadvertently. Damages frequently take the form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness, which can be easily repaired with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier and renovator of the system.

—A lady from Syracuse writes: "For about seven years before taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure, I suffered from a complaint very prevalent with our sex. I was unable to walk any distance or stand on my feet for more than a few minutes at a time without feeling exhausted, but now I am thankful to say, I can walk two miles without feeling the least inconvenience." For Female Complaints it has no equal.

The Power that Moves the World

FIRST ANNUAL TOUR

—OF—

D. McLENNAN

—OF—

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

THIS WONDERFUL MASTER OF THE Healing Art has arrived in the city, where he intends to remain for a short time, to cure the sick and afflicted of this vicinity. He comes to us laden with testimonials from the leading citizens of California and the Sound. In San Francisco he has practiced for the past sixteen years, and the authenticated reports of some of his cures seem nothing short of miraculous. He uses no medicine and perfects his cures mostly by the WONDERFUL POWER OF MAGNETISM, the gift of but few men on earth. This is the only method of treatment that restores the life-giving principle, magnetism, to the system, thereby increasing the vital powers and electrifying the nervous system, sending the blood coursing and bounding through the veins, with drawing and allaying in a few minutes all pains and aches from whatever source.

The diseases which yield most readily to the curative agency of this method, as practiced by McLennan, are: Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Deafness, Eruptions, Gravel, Paralysis, Loss of Vitiated Vitality, Sciatica, Dropsy, Fits, Piles, Scrofula, Swellings, Weak Spinal Complaints, Cold Feet and Hands, Biliousness, Contracted Limbs, Diseased Kidneys, Erysipelas, Nervous Dyspepsia, St. Vitus's Dance, Weak and Failing Limbs, Mental Depressions, Diseases of the Brain, Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Stiffness, Impotence, Sore Throat, Carbuncles, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, seminal Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh, Heart Disease, Fever Sores, Leucorrhœa, Rheumatism, Swollen Joints, Weak Lungs, Gout, Goitre, Coughs, Diseases of the Eyes, Neuralgia, Tumors, Tetters, Cancers, White Swellings, Leucorrhœa, Ague and Fever, Milk Leg, etc.

IN THE SELKIRKS.

Pathfinding in the Hitherto Inaccessible Mountains of Kootenay.

The Timber Line—Mountain Goat—Around Kootenay Lake.

SECOND LETTER.

Written by W. A. Baillie-Grohman.

Timber line in the Selkirks ranges about 6000 feet or 6500 feet, and the valleys from which the mountains rise and by which one has approached their base, are usually only from 1800 feet to 2300 feet in altitude, so that one has almost invariably about 4000 feet of very steep and densely-wooded slopes to overcome ere one reaches the clear rocks above; and one can speak of luck if, in ascending the slope one has selected, one does not strike either the bed of an old avalanche perfectly impassable, owing to the denseness of the young vegetation on it, or has to climb for half a day over, under, along, and across prostrate trunks of huge trees piled up in the most puzzling manner, obliging one often to walk along a slippery trunk 12 feet or 14 feet over the ground, or crawl for many yards under a network of fallen monarchs, pushing one's coil of blanket, rifle and grub sack in front of one, as there is no space to do otherwise. Once the rocks are reached, and the object of the expedition is goat shooting, the conditions become more favorable, in fact, one is in the hunting country as soon as one is out of timber line; and the nearest ridge, often only 100 feet higher, and easily attainable by a steep rock climb, will almost certainly bear, if not goat, their signs. Goat have a predilection for promenading along impossible looking knife-back ridges, from whence both slopes can be seen. They are, as is now well known, anything but shy animals, their innate sense of curiosity being remarkably great. They are much easier prey to kill than the bighorn, when once the sportsman has managed to reach their home. The Indians do often great execution among bands at the licks, and I know an old Kootenay hunter who killed eleven without taking his Winchester repeater from his shoulder; while others still use the old Hudson Bay Company musket, or "firesquirt"—a very antiquated percussion smoothbore, with which they, nevertheless, manage to do some very creditable shooting at close quarters, and often succeed in bringing down two or three before they get out of range. It is surprising to see how close these stealthy moccasin-shod, almost naked stalkers, will manage to get to their quarry, the dusky hue of their skin assisting them in this, as I had once, in a rather startling manner, occasion to find out, when, after a painful half an hour's wriggle, ventre à terre, up a jaggy slope, I suddenly found myself looking into the glittering eyes of a Kootenay, literally not more than 12 inches from mine, their owner lying on a slab of rock, flesh and stone being almost undistinguishable from each other.

If the ascent of the higher peaks in the Selkirks be the object of the traveller, difficulties of a different and more rieksful sort will have to be combatted. None, or, at least, very few of the higher mountains can be ascended without traversing snowfields or glaciers, where great caution will become necessary, for what with bergschrunds, crevasses, overhanging ice and snow cornices, those perhaps most dangerous pitfalls of all, the lone traveller should have mature Alpine experience for such work. The Indians are no good on the ice, and won't go on to it, and I have only once been able to induce one of them to cross a narrow icefall. The moraines, existing in the Selkirks in great number, are often distinguished by the great size of the blocks of rock that strew the ground, not unfrequently in such quantities that progress over such a moraine is desperate, if not impossible, work.

About twenty-five miles south of the mountains explored by Mr. Green, there is a high, rocky peak, quite nameless and virgin as yet, whose southern face (the only one I have seen) appears to be an almost sheer precipice, with not a speck of ice or snow on it, at least when I saw it, and which peak most afford one of the best rockclimbs in the whole Selkirks. Somehow I have never been able to carry out my intention of tackling this mountain, the distance, some sixty miles from the Kootenay lake, which necessarily must be the base of supplies, making it rather a longer trip than I could undertake when I happened to be near the spot. I should say that it is higher than Mount Sir Donald, that fine Matterhorn-like peak, in the shadow of which the C. P. R. crosses this remarkable range to the north of it. None but the higher peaks immediately contiguous and visible from the C. P. R. have names, and of these only one or two have ever been ascended; thus all attempts on Mount Sir Donald (made, however, always from the wrong, though handier side), have so far failed, and it is to be hoped that Mr Green's useful map of the country visited by him, however circumscribed its area was, will soon be extended, and a better system of nomenclature than that usually followed by the miners and prospectors be adopted. Of the latter, one might give some very ludicrous instances. One will suffice—the Spellamcheen, a large tributary of the Columbia coming in between Golden City and Grohman, and which has lately become a much "prospected" region, owing to valuable mineral discoveries, has a great number of tributaries, called "forks," which again are made up by smaller streams. Instead of giving each a distinct name, they are known as forks of the forks, and you will hear miners describe a mine as being on the south fork of the middle fork of the north fork of the Spellamcheen. Some of the higher mountains round Kootenay Lake have been named in local, not very euphonious, fashion, after Dick, Tom and Harry among the prospectors; and I was rather amused on my last visit to the lake to find that the miners (who had almost all come into the country since my preceding visit) had, as a piece of satirical pleasantry, named after me the only one of all the peaks round the lake which I had never ascended or explored; and when asking my informant—a gruff old prospector, who did not know who his questioner was—for the reason why just this peak was so named, he told me that it was "reported that it would "let that 'er mountain shinner out bad" (Anglice, make me very angry) to find on returning that the only peak I had not been on was called after me—a piece of sarcasm my companion deemed to enjoy hugely.

To make, before concluding, a few topographical remarks concerning the Selkirks, it must be remembered that this vast range occupies almost the entire "Kootenay District"—a political division of British Columbia very nearly as large as England. The Selkirk range, commencing at the mouth of Canoe river (the famous old Athabaska Pass, or Rocky Mountain passage of the Hudson Bay Company days), and extending southward to the great bend of the Kootenay river, is 300 miles long. In shape this mass of mountains is not unlike a huge horseshoe, with the open end towards the south, or United States. Inside this horseshoe is situated one of the three great valleys of the Kootenay district—the Lower Kootenay Valley and Kootenay Lake—while the two other great depressions—namely, the Upper Kootenay Valley and the Columbia River Valley—run round the outside of the horse hoe, isolating the Selkirks from the Rocky Mountains to the east and north, and from the Gold Range to the west, and thus producing what is probably an unique instance—i. e. a large stretch of mountain country 300 miles long and situated about 400 miles inland, for that is the distance between Kootenay and the Pacific Ocean, made by the hand of man into an island as completely water-girt on every side as is any little islet on the Thames. Nature, and not the hand of man, has of course, contrived the largest part—indeed, almost the entire—of this singular trick, by making two large navigable rivers, which start from two points only a mile and a quarter apart (mark this latter fact), take for the first 150 miles of their respective courses entirely opposite directions, the one (Columbia) flowing due north, the other (Kootenay) running due south. After keeping up the indicated directions for the just stated distances, both streams, now swollen to majestic proportions by the numerous tributaries that have poured into them from the mountains which inclose their courses, suddenly, as if sorry to run away from each other, take abrupt and complete turns, until finally, after each having flown 150 miles more, the two rivers actually meet and mingle their waters, forming together the great Columbia, the largest river of North America's Pacific coast. The stretch of country enclosed by these two rivers is entirely occupied by the Selkirks, and the sunny Swiss-like valleys and lakes that lie in their embrace, while the only water-link missing to make of it a complete island is, or rather was, that mile and a quarter wide strip of land which separated the two rivers at their starting point. I had been struck with this singular orographical feature when I planned out my first little expedition to Kootenay in the map rooms of the Geographical Society, Foreign Office and British Museum; and while I found that all the travelers who had visited the spot and left any record behind them (their names could be counted on one's fingers) had noticed and expressed surprise at this singular configuration, none appeared to have sufficient acquaintance with what was then a perfectly wild country to realise the future importance of creating a navigable connection by means of a canal between these two rivers; the easy nature of the intervening ground, a perfectly level flat raised only a few feet over the waters, making the project, as I found on my first visit to this then immeasurably remote spot, a very feasible one from an engineer's standpoint. To-day the hand of man, in the shape of sundry Chinamen and white navvies, has accomplished the work, and a canal of sufficient depth and width to allow shallow-draft river steamers to pass through it, from one river to the other, makes an island of the Great Selkirk chain.

W. A. BAILLIE-GROHMAN.

ABOUT SORGHUM.

A Letter From An Illinois Agriculturist Showing the Value of the Plant and Seed for Feeding Purposes.

I was just thinking of how little the value of sorghum is understood and appreciated in this latitude as a forage plant. When I was in Garden City, Kan., last September, I found hundreds of acres raised for the purpose of feeding stock alone—in fact more acres than there were in corn. I saw pens full of Berkshire hogs, fat enough for the butcher, that they assured me had been fed on nothing else but sorghum, fresh from the field, and it is considered of more value per acre than corn for that purpose. A great deal was already cut, and there was a second growth covering the stubble about eighteen inches high. It is there mostly sown broadcast or drilled, sometimes Amber and Orange mixed together. Cattle and sheep are fed on it all the time, the same as hogs, from the time it begins to head out.

In this latitude where we can only afford the seed for stock, it amounts to more than many have any idea of. I have this season made a careful estimate of the yield of seed per ton of different varieties, and it has surprised me. As we weigh all our cane it was little trouble to do so, and as we are just through threshing it, I am able to send you correct figures. The estimate, as you see, is made on unstripped cane, which is considered to be 1,800 pounds of clean cane, and 200 pounds of blades per ton, or ten per cent. different; see statement.

STATEMENT.

ARTICLES.	Yield of seed per acre in bushels.	Weight of seed per bushel in pounds.	Weight of stripped cane per ton in pounds.	Weight of seed per ton in pounds.	Weight of blades per ton in pounds.
Early Amber	10	29	2	2	62
Stewart Hybrid	9¾	35	3	3	50
Improved Early Orange	12	46	4	4	62
Link's Hybrid	11	35	3	3	60
Early Orange	10	30	3	3	60
Kansas or Texas Orange	9	27	3	3	57
Honduras	11	35	3	3	45

This is by measure of clean seed from the machine. The tailings or screenings are not included and would for feed add five per cent. more to the above. I have fed my milch cows on this for some time, ground up coarse, and they seem to like it as well as corn-meal.

My improved Early Orange, as you see, made forty-eight bushels to the acre, and weighing sixty-two pounds to the bushel. It is well for farmers to consider this at the present low price of wheat, when more stock becomes a necessity for profit and by requiring more feed and afford also a rotation from corn to something else.

The present low price for sugar seems to put a damper on the sorghum industry, but I don't see why it should. Large factories, working for sugar only, will feel it keenly, but small works making only good syrup and using the by-products to advantage—which large works are not in a condition to do—will have little to complain of, when they compare prices of other farm products. We have aimed for some time not to make sugar, and we have not made any for sale this season, although our cane was good, but it has saved us from much loss. We have always paid the highest price for cane ($3.00 stripped or $2.70 unstripped, per ton). Never had enough for a season's run, two seasons out of five have had a failure from drought and chinch-bugs. Had the factory torn to pieces by the cyclone, and are still, notwithstanding the present low prices, right side up, and intend to keep so. I only allude to this to show what may be done in the future.

—"You were asleep last night, weren't you, my dear, when I came in?" he asked. "Yes, and it was a great blessing to you that I was asleep." "I hardly think," he returned mildly, "that it was a great blessing. It was owing to the fact that you were asleep that I escaped a great blessing."—N. Y. Sun.

—A family in Lewiston, Maine, recently received a visit from a prominent clergyman. In the family is a girl of three years—the pet and privileged character of the household. At the table she listened attentively while grace was being said, and when the clergyman had reached his "Amen," she exclaimed: "'Tain't pretty to talk so at the table; my papa don't."—Troy Times.

—A London chemist, in an analysis of the tea we drink, found that it contained "nut-galls, iron filings, filbert husks, sulphate of copper, hornets' nests, acetic acid, green paint, tar rope, desiccated door-mats, ammonia, stable sweepings, etc." This would seem to disprove the general belief that tea is adulterated, unless something of the kind may lurk in that suspicious, "etc."—Norristown Herald.

—A New York dude went to a celebrated doctor to be examined, as his health was on the wane. The physician examined the young man carefully and said: "I find your heart is affected." "Anything else, doctor?" "Yes, your lungs are slightly affected." "Anything else about me that is affected?" "Yes, your manners are also affected."

The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign).

Registered the 10th day of July, 1889.

CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT I HAVE THIS day registered "The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign)" under the "Companies' Act," Part IV, Registration of Foreign Companies.

The objects for which the Company is established are:

1. To purchase, take under any concession, lease, or in exchange, hire or otherwise acquire, settle, improve, farm and cultivate lands of any tenure, franchises and hereditaments situate in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, including any mines, minerals, ships, steamboats, barges, and other vessels, engines, railway wagons, tanks, reservoirs, manufacturing plant, apparatus and stock in trade, and any other real and personal property of whatever description, whether the same be unencumbered or subject to any mortgage, charge, lien, easements, privileges, licenses, concessions or otherwise, and to develop the resources of any such properties by building any kind of structure thereupon, planting, reclaiming, clearing, mining, quarrying, excavating, damming, draining, farming, and otherwise dealing with and working the same, and to stock lands and farms, and to breed, grow and deal in all kinds of stock, cattle, horses, sheep and produce, and to erect and maintain therefor suitable buildings and structures, including slaughtering, refrigerating, and converting establishments.

2. To invest money by way of advance, or loan at interest to any person or persons, or corporation, upon the security of any property, and securities whatever, real or personal, including produce, crops and manufactures, government and all other stocks, bonds, mortgages, or securities, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and generally to buy, manufacture, deal in and sell all kinds of goods, chattels, merchandise, produce and effects.

3. To aid, encourage and promote immigration, emigration and colonization, and for such purposes to lend and grant any sums of money, and to act as agents therefor.

4. To work, win, convert, sell, use or otherwise deal with all or any mineral property of the Company, to construct or acquire, take concessions of purchase or lease, hire, maintain, improve, work and use, or aid in, or subscribe towards the construction, maintenance, improvement and working of roads, ways, streets, tramways, wire tramways, electric or other power, telegraph and telephone lines and works, or other means of communication or appliances of a similar nature, railways, railway stock, locomotives, engines, docks, piers, harbors, quays, wharves, landing stages, jetties, slips, sters, bridges, canals, channels, wells, hoops, lights and beacons, visitors, aqueducts, water works, flumes, culverts, ditches, warehouses, factories, shops, churches, chapels, schools, libraries, institutes, inns, foundries, brick kilns, reduction works, gas and water works, electric lighting or power works, hotels, mills, undertakings, works, and other buildings and structures, of every description, and for the above purposes to enter into and carry into effect any contracts, and apply for, accept, and carry into effect such concessions, licenses or authorities as may be deemed necessary or advisable.

5. To acquire running powers, rights or easements over and to make arrangements with any companies or persons for the joint working of any railway, tramway, or line of electric wire, or other similar means of communication.

6. To build, purchase, charter, hire or otherwise acquire, maintain, repair and use steam and other ships and vessels, and to carry on the business of ship owners, lightermen, wharfingers, dock owners, warehousemen, ship chandlers, commission and shipping agents, and to levy cranage, anchorage, lighterage and other dues and tolls, either in connection with the other businesses of the Company, or as an independent source of profit.

7. To transact all manner of agency and commission business, and in particular to act as agents for any persons or corporation in the purchase, sale, or management in any way of lands, hereditaments and other property in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, where the Company may for the time than being be carrying on business, and to carry on the business of general, commercial, mercantile, shipping or forwarding agents, or agents for any railway, steamship, or other company.

8. To accept and hold any property whatsoever upon any trust whatever, and to make advances against the same, and to issue debentures thereon and to act as trustees, attorneys or agents of or for any persons, living or dead, or of any company, corporation, public body or supreme government, and also as real or personal representatives of any deceased persons.

9. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest, to receive money on deposit, and generally to transact and carry on every description of banking, discount, exchange and financial business.

10. To make, draw, accept, indorse, discount and execute promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other negotiable instruments.

11. To build, lay out, settle, colonize and develop towns and villages on the lands acquired or controlled by the Company from time to time.

12. To purchase or otherwise acquire the exclusive or limited right to use information as regards any inventions, whether patented or not, which may seem capable of being used for any purposes of the Company, or the acquisition of which may seem calculated, directly or indirectly, to benefit the Company, and to acquire any grants, charters, concessions, patents, patent rights, monopolies, brevets d'inventions, copyrights or licenses, and to use, exercise, develop, grant licenses in respect of, or otherwise turn to account the property, rights and information acquired.

13. To take or otherwise acquire, and hold or sell shares, stock, debentures, or any other interest in any other company, whether British or foreign, in which the liability of the members is limited, having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company.

14. To purchase or otherwise acquire or undertake all or any part of the business, property and liabilities of any company, corporation, society, partnership or persons carrying on, or about to carry on, any business which this Company is authorized to carry on, or which is in any respect similar to the business for the time being of this Company, or which is capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company, and to make and carry into effect arrangements with respect to the sharing of profits, union of interests, or amalgamation, either in whole or in part, of this Company with any such company, corporation, society, partnership, or persons.

15. To dispose of by sale, lease, underlease, exchange, surrender, mortgage or otherwise absolutely, conditionally, or for any limited interest, all or any part of the undertaking, property, rights or privileges of the Company as a going concern or otherwise, to any public body, company, society or association, or to any person or persons, and in particular to any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, and to accept as the consideration, or part of the consideration for such disposal money, stock, shares, debentures or other securities, either fully paid or partly paid up, or the members or otherwise.

16. To subscribe for, take, acquire, hold and sell the stock, shares, scrip, certificates, bonds, obligations, debentures and securities of any other company, or of any supreme, municipal, public or local board or authority.

17. To borrow and raise money for the purposes of the Company in such manner and upon such terms as the Company shall think fit. And to secure the repayment thereof by bonds or debentures, or by redeemable or unredeemable debenture stock (such bonds, debentures and debenture stock being made payable to bearer or otherwise) or by any other instruments, or by bills of exchange, or promissory notes, or in such other manner as may be determined, and for any such purposes to charge all or any part of the property of the Company (both present and future), including the uncalled capital.

18. To obtain any provisional order or Act of Parliament, or legislative provision, decree or order of any colony, foreign government, body or authority, to incorporate the members as a body politic or corporate, in accordance with the laws and constitution of any country or state in which the Company shall be carrying on, or be desirous of carrying on, any of its operations, and to take all steps and do all things necessary to give the Company, or any company subsidiary thereto, a legal domicile in any such country or state, and such legislative powers as will facilitate the carrying into effect of the objects of the Company therein.

19. To give any guarantee of whatever description in relation to the stock, shares, debentures or other securities or obligations of any company or supreme, public, municipal or local body or authority, and generally to guarantee the performance of any contract or obligation.

20. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest.

21. To allot the shares of the Company credited as fully or partly paid up as the whole or part of the purchase price for any property purchased by the Company, or for any valuable consideration.

22. To appropriate and apply such parts of the capital of the Company as may be expedient to the payment of such brokerage, discounts and other expenses as may be deemed incidental to the formation and promotion of the Company, and the placing of its shares and debentures, or any part thereof.

23. To aid any government or state, or any municipal, local or other body politic or corporate, or company or association, or individuals with capital, credit, means or resources, for the prosecution of any works, undertakings, projects or enterprises.

24. To do all or any of the above things in any part of the world, and either alone or in partnership or conjunction with any person or other association, and either as principals or agents, and to contract for the carrying on of any operation connected with the Company's business by any person or other association.

25. To carry out the objects comprised in each paragraph of this clause in as full and ample a manner, and construed in as wide a sense as they would be construed if each paragraph of this clause defined the objects of a separate, distinct and independent company, and so that such objects shall not, except where otherwise expressed in such paragraph, be restricted by reference to the objects indicated in any other paragraph.

26. To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, or which the Company shall consider incidental or conclusive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, and so that the word "company" in this memorandum shall be deemed to include any partnership or other body of persons, whether corporate or incorporate, and wherever domiciled.

The amount of capital stock of the said Company is £250,000, divided into 25,000 shares of £10 each.

The place of business of the said Company is located at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my seal at office this 10th day of July, 1889, at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

—The case of Samuel Pearce, on application for bail, will come up in the Supreme Court to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case of J. McCluskey, charged with stealing a gun, will also come up.

—The Union Land Company, with a capital stock of $100,000, has been organized at Port Townsend. The trustees are T. Labber and E. A. McQuade, of this city; Cyrus E. Clapp, C. B. Perkins, and J. E. Lutz, of Port Townsend.

—Mrs. Dee, wife of Mr. William Dee, of the C. P. R. telegraph office, received the news to day of the death of her father in Ontario. Mrs. Dee, who only arrived in the city a few days ago, will have the sympathy of all who know her.

—Passengers on the steamer Olympian yesterday were sensibly shocked by the actions of four dissolute women who propose to take up their abode here. These women were very loud in their conduct and disgusted everybody by continual puffing of cigars.

—Daniel O'Leary, a young man employed in Bowman's stables, was badly injured last evening. The unfortunate man was mounting a saddle horse in the stables when the animal fell upon him, fracturing his left leg. O'Leary was taken to the Royal Hospital.

—Forty teamsters of New Westminster have petitioned the city council there asking that the Salvation army be restricted from banging their big drum and using other noisy instruments in their street parades. The council was unanimous that the big drum was a nuisance and now it must go.

—The New Westminster city council held a meeting on Monday evening and considered a petition respecting the Salvation Army drummers. A discussion arose regarding the merits of the bass and snare drums. They ultimately decided that the noise endangered life and property, and a motion was passed to request the drummers to take a vacation for an indefinite period. It is to be hoped that the expounder of religion in this city will go on a camping expedition with his co-religionists at New Westminster.

A Terrible Fall.

A serious accident occurred at Discovery Island lighthouse on Tuesday. Mrs. Brinn, wife of the lighthouse keeper, was shown as look out of the second story window at a passing steamer, when her hand slipped from its hold upon the sash and she fell out of the window and down onto the hard rocks below, a distance of 27 feet. In falling she turned a complete somersault and landed on her feet, and strange to say although a woman between 50 and 60 years of age, she was not killed, although she received a terrible shaking up. Last evening she was brought to the city and taken to the Gorge Hotel, where she is under the care of Mrs. Marshall. Mrs Brinn is the mother-in-law of Mr. Robert Croft of the Royal Hotel, Fort street.

Mr. Croft happened to be at the lighthouse at the time of the accident and picked Mrs. Brinn up when she fell, a no thought dead. She has been delirious since the accident and her limbs are terribly swollen, but the doctors think she will come around all right.

Arrived.

Ease XXXX Ale (Lemli's Wool) at the Occidental Hotel bar. *

Mr. Pickering.

Mayor Grant received a cable message to-day from Mr. Pickering, of Whitehaven, England, stating that he had embarked to-day with Mr. Hill the contractor. They will arrive here in about two weeks.

Naval.

H. M. S. Champion will leave Esquimalt at six o'clock monday morning for torpedo practice in the straits. A small boat will be sent in for the mails, etc., later on the vessel will start north to join the fleet on Tuesday, the whole returning about August 10th.

Escape of Prisoners.

Two prisoners escaped from the chain gang in Nanaimo yesterday. One was soon discovered by a dog, which traced him to a tree in which he was secreted and commenced barking. On a threat of being shot the prisoner came down and gave himself up. The other is still at large.

A Bed of Sienna.

The proprietors of the St. Alice hotel, Harrison Hot Springs, have discovered a valuable deposit of sienna on the shore of Harrison Lake, about 20 miles from their hotel. The earth is pronounced by experts in Montreal, Chicago and San Francisco to be a superior article.

Hebrew Speaker.

Rabbi Levy, of Oakland, Cal., arrived from the Sound yesterday afternoon and will speak in the Synagogue to-morrow evening at 7:30. The talented divine will speak in English and those desirous of hearing him, regardless of creed, are cordially invited. It is three years since the gentleman was here before.

Reckless Shooting.

A number of persons complain of reckless shooting at Clover Point. Residents in the locality are in the habit of firing bullets at bottles and cause a great deal of annoyance to ladies driving around that part of the country. The rifle range was moved a short time ago and is also very annoying to persons driving to the city from Ross Bay cemetery.

Building Society Drawing.

The seventh drawing for an appropriation was held by the Victoria Building Society last evening. The following gentlemen were selected to take charge of the drawing: Messrs. E. Bragg, R. Erskine and J. Fullerton. The shares drawn were held by Thos. Shaw, Mrs Shaw and John Meston. The secretary's report and balance sheet were read at the meeting.

The Other Side.

Muller, a former resident of this city, who was recently tarred and feathered near Seattle, is taking steps to bring damage suits against those engaged in the affair. He says that the square who set up the outcry on him went into his cabin and he, not wanting anything to do with her, threw her out, whereupon she told a story of alleged outrage, and had Muller tarred and feathered and driven from town.

Real Estate Sale.

The Vancouver papers report the sale of the balance of the Dupont estate, through the London office of Rand Bros., for the sum of $120,000. The property comprises a twentieth interest in the Vancouver Improvement Company; also a twentieth interest in the Hastings Saw Mill Company's property; 82 lots in district 184; 10 lots in district 185; 29 lots in district 200 A; 67 lots in district 196 and 8 blocks in district 264 A. The figure is considered low.

Grasshopper Plague.

Information received recently from Kamloops and Nicola Valley is to the effect that grasshoppers are devastating the whole country. The crops are ruined and stock raisers cannot raise sufficient fodder for their cattle. Three gentlemen belonging to the interior were in this city a few days ago offering their cattle to the butchers. They are of the opinion that large herds of cattle will be lost through want of food, caused by the grasshoppers eating every blade of grass.

Pilfering Fruit.

A complaint comes from Yates street about four boys despoiling an orchard yesterday. Besides pilfering fruit damage to trees was done. For the sake of boys in the habit of visiting orchards an illustration will be cited. About a dozen years or so ago, a lad for stealing three apples from Mr. Sutken's orchard was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labor by the late Judge Courtenay. This young man paraded the streets in the chain gang for that period with irons on his legs.

Wily Smugglers.

The recent seizure of $1500 worth of opium on the steamer Empire, which it is pretty well understood was shipped from this city to Nanaimo, where it was taken aboard the steamer, demonstrates that competent customs officers are on the San Francisco force. These officers, suspecting contraband opium was on the vessel, went through her and finally tackled the machinery, with orders to take it to pieces if necessary. Under the bed plates, the most securely fastened pieces of iron on the steamer, was found the drug. No arrests were made, but the owner of the boat, R. B. Chandler, feels mortified over the affair and will probably discharge the crew.

Marine.

The ship Titania, after discharging cargo at Vancouver will load salmon for London direct.

The latest charters are, the bark Matilda, lumber from Moodyville to Melbourne, and the ship John C. Potter, 1182 tons, coal from Departure Bay to San Francisco.

The wreck and cargo of the bark Lizzie Williams, which was lost in Alaskan waters in March last, was sold at auction at the Merchants' Exchange, last Friday, by S. L. Jones & Co., for the benefit of all concerned. Bidding on the hull commenced at $10, and it was finally knocked down to T. P. H. Whitelaw for $45. The cargo was valued at $52,700, and it, too, was purchased by Whitelaw for $45.

The Salmon Run.

Two private telegrams received from the Fraser river last evening state that the fish are running better than for several years. A good run was due this year and it has evidently come. A dispatch also from Ladner's states that they had 300 fish to the boat at Ben Young's cannery yesterday. A great deal of complaint is made concerning the regulations which forbid fishing from 6 o'clock Saturday evening to 6 o'clock Monday morning. The run being large the catch of Saturday has to be saved on Sunday or allowed to go to waste, and on Monday there is scarcely anything done. As millions of fish every day pass up the river to die, the long close hours at the end of each week are regarded by the fishermen as so much very limited and valuable time wasted. The old close time from Saturday noon to Sunday evening was in better favor.

Rev. J. W. Wadman.

Such friends of the Rev. J. W. Wadman as were favored with the knowledge of the time of his departure from this city were at the Yosemite last night to bid the reverend gentleman and his amiable wife good-bye. It is their intention to stay at Vancouver for a day or two before sailing on the s.s. Abyssinia for Japan, their future field of labor. During his short stay in this city, Mr. Wadman has made a large number of friends and acquaintances, his sociability, amiability, and general large-heartedness impressing one and all. Always obliging and never wearying in helping an unfortunate brother, he will be missed by many who have been helped and encouraged if by nothing more than the kindly smile he has for everyone. The Times joins his many friends in wishing him and his family bon voyage, and in hoping that they will not see the sun scale the heavens very many times in that "land of the rising sun" before returning to their numerous friends in this city.

W. C. T. U. PROVINCIAL REFUGE.

What It Has Been Established For—Financial Assistance Required.

Refuge cities are a thing of the past, but refuge homes a necessity of the present, so says the organized mother love of British Columbia. Believing that actions speak louder than words, they have purchased in the city of Victoria a piece of ground with a suitable building upon it, No. 108 Cormorant street, have named it the W. C. T. U. Provincial Refuge Home, and are prepared, having fitted it up for the purpose, to open its doors wide, and welcome to its shelter and protection any mother's girl wishing to leave a crooked life and retrace her steps to a life of purity. Such may there find friends, tender sympathy and the loving guardianship of a Christian mother.

To avoid indolence an industrial department will furnish occupation for each inmate, and at the same time contribute in some degree towards making the Home self-supporting.

The Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union has been impelled to undertake this work of rescue by a sense of obligation to a class of the community for whose salvation no effort is being made by others, and no hospitals or asylums provided.

It is well known that with the increase in population of our towns and cities there has also been a proportionate increase in the number of houses where without licenses or protest from local authorities, the most degrading vices are practised and the vilest liquor sold. Mother love, which is but the expression of God's love for his children, pleads with the "city fathers" who have the vested power and could do it if they would—to stamp out this monster evil at its source, by pronouncing its existence a social crime. The safety of our home purity demands this. But while the iniquity is tolerated and the stream of pollution is allowed to flow through our streets, every good citizen is called upon in the name of common humanity to lend a helping hand if perchance a few of the jewels of other homes may be recovered from the gutter into which they have been thrust.

The local conduct of the refuge has been entrusted to a managing board of twelve ladies, representing all the evangelical denominations, assisted by all the resident pastors of evangelical churches, and six business men who constitute an advisory committee.

It will be readily perceived that an institution such as the one described cannot be maintained without considerable financial support. While gratefully acknowledging the generous assistance already given, which has made it possible to do what has been done, the board of management find it necessary to appeal to the public, through the local unions, for further aid. Subscriptions will be circulated throughout the province by committees elected for the purpose, and we bespeak a kind and liberal response from all.

The Provincial Union having become an incorporated body, money or goods devoted to it will be secured for its use, and a provincial statement will be published from time to time by the treasurer of the refuge fund for the information of contributors.

Reform work has ever its discouragements on account of failures. The Christian women keenly realize the magnitude of the task they have undertaken. Therefore they solicit for their project from all classes of the community that charity which will prevent unkindly criticisms tending to disparagement and opposition.

SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS.

The Contract for the Musgrave Brick Let—Notes in General.

The contract for Mr. Musgrave's new building, on the southwest corner of Broad and Trounce streets, has been awarded to Messrs. Smith and Elford, the contract being signed yesterday. The building will be a two story brick with a frontage of 57 feet on Broad street and 70 feet on Trounce street. The price is $11,000. Work of demolishing the old structures on the premises will begin at once, and operations on the new building commenced without delay.

The Jubilee Hospital is nearly completed. Plumbing work on the entire structure has been finished and the first coat of plaster has been applied to the walls. A second coat will be on in a few days. At present the cement trimmings on the outside are being put on. The contractors, Elford & Smith, pronounce the design and conveniences of this institution ahead of any like institution on the Pacific coast. The site of the buildings was well considered, being elevated, commanding lovely scenery, and withal, large. It is well worth visiting by those out for a summer walk.

Brackman & Ker's four-storey brick is about completed, and the Victoria Athletic Club are anxious to get into their new quarters in the top storey.

The new brick next to the Poodle Dog is well advanced and presents a handsome exterior, as well as being a noticeable improvement to a conspicuous corner.

Next week Messrs. Elford & Smith will begin brick work at the Naval hospital, Esquimalt, where additions of a decided character are to be made.

A. A. Green's new brick on the northwest corner of Broad and Trounce streets will begin to rise skyward within a few days. The building will be one of the finest in the city, a special feature being a tower for the Telephone Co. for their wires. The cost of this edifice will approximate $20,000.

THE TWELVE TEMPTATIONS.

A Famous Old Spectacle Presented in a New Dress.

Mr. Wm. J. Gilmore's spectacle, "The Twelve Temptations," a spectacular play, rewritten and arranged by Charles H. Yale, was given last evening in the Victoria Theatre before a crowded house. The show was intended by its organizer to be the greatest spectacular drama ever produced on the American stage. It was mounted and costumed, it is stated, at a cost of $35,000. "The Twelve Temptations" presents a mythical story of ice and sun. Mr. Yale has fashioned a tale that introduces gnomes, spirits and queens of ice and sun, the scene laid alternately in a climate cold and hot. The character skipping from the council chamber of old Boreas, past village and sea, through caverns of the Green Dragon, over golden and jeweled terraces to the palace of "Solaris," queen of the sun. Zero, queen of the polar regions, has fallen in love with a mortal scout of a principality in Norway; with the aid of Boreas, her prime minister; Zero plans to get Hubert in her power. Byrene, distinguished as a monk, visits Hubert and inflames his mind with stories of treasures buried in the Arctics. Remembering that eleven of his ancestors perished in the attempt to possess these treasures, Hubert hesitates, but his fears are quieted by the information that the twelfth seeker is to be successful, and he consents to sail the day following for the north. Zero then dispatches Jack Frost, one of her attendants, to abduct Hubert's betrothed, Felicia, who is to be sacrificed to the Green Dragon as Zero's annual tribute for holding possession of power in the Arctics. Hubert is warned of this plot by "Solaris," queen of the sun, but too late to prevent it. He therefore embarks for the Arctic region to save his betrothed. He is attacked by pirates, but captures them, and are about to be executed, when the disguised Boreas, who has accompanied Hubert on the voyage, makes himself known, and declares the crew the prisoners of Zero. Through magic all the ship is wrecked and all perish save Hubert and his henchman, Snoro Apropos. Hubert, discovering the power of Zero, apparently accepts her love and is proclaimed king of her court. He is informed of the whereabouts of Felicia, and attempts to rescue her, but is thwarted. "Solaris," queen of the sun, comes to his aid, Felicia is rescued, the treasure found, and all ends happily. The drama is gorgeously mounted, and the settings are said to be remarkably fine works of art. The entire company will appear again this evening and a full house is assured.

Death of Mr. Welch.

A private telegram received in this city this morning announced the death of Mr. Andrew Welch in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Welch was senior partner of the large and well-known firm of Welch Rithet & Co., of this city. He arrived in this city in the year 1860, being sent out as a bookkeeper for the shipping firm of Anderson Bros., whose name has recently been prominently before the public. In company with Mr. Rithet he purchased the shipping business of J. Robinson Stewart in the city, but went to San Francisco shortly afterwards as the manager of the Anderson Company, having risen from clerk to that position while here. After being in the Bay City for some time he established himself in business which he carried on for the last twenty years. In addition to his business here and his interest in the Moodyville Sawmill Company, he was largely interested in sugar plantations in the Sandwich Islands and is reported to have grown very wealthy. His connection with the Moodyville Sawmill Company dates from the time of their great fire, when he came to their assistance and has since been identified with them. The connections of the firm were large, a branch house being established in Liverpool. Like his partner, Mr. Rithet, Mr. Welch was a native of Dumfriesshire, Scotland, and was 51 years of age at the time of his death. He was a good business man and was held in high esteem by the business community. His wife and family are in San Francisco.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.
